

Workshop: Laurence Bloom's The Principle of Non-contradiction in Plato's Republic, 10 June 2017, Wits University

Programme:

09.15-09.35 Synopsis: The Principle of Non-contradiction in Plato's Republic

Laurence Bloom (Rhodes University)

09.35-10.30 "The Whole Soul's Goal: Some Apposite Neoplatonic Perspectives on Embodiment"

Wehan Coombs (University of Pretoria)

10:30-10.40 Break

10.40-11.35 "Separating Sensibles in the Parmenides"

Gary Beck (Wits University)

11.35-12.30 "Living Well: Myth and Justice in Plato"

Gabriela Connell Sacco (Wits University)

12:30-13.30 Lunch

13.30-14.25 "Reflections of Heraclitus in Plato's Allegory of the Cave"

Dylan Futter (Wits University)

14.25-15.20 "Soul, Substance and Form: Interrogating Bloom's Plato"

Thomas Angier (University of Cape Town)

15.20-15.35 Break

15.35-16.30 "Recollection"

Laurence Bloom (Rhodes University)

Venue: Robert Sobukwe Block, 3C (formerly Central Block, 3C), East Campus, University of the Witwatersrand

RSVP: Dylan.Futter@wits.ac.za

For more information about the book, please see the publisher's webpage:

<https://rowman.com/ISBN/9780739190241/The-Principle-of-Non-contradiction-in-Plato's-Republic-An-Argument-for-Form>